NEW PINOLE BOOK SENT TO PUBLISHER

The second book about Pinole written by the Pinole Historical Society is in the hands of publisher Fonhill Media (www.fonhillmedia.com/), which specializes in publishing books on general, local, and regional history.

“Pinole Through Time” will be a new title in Fonhill’s “America Through Time” series. The book will feature 91 sets of photos of old Pinole buildings and landmarks and current photos of what exists on those sites today. In several cases these will be the same buildings, some restored, and others nearly identical.

A book signing in the Bank of Pinole building will be scheduled as soon as we get a firm delivery date from the publisher.

The book signing will be held in conjunction with a ceremony commemorating the 100th anniversary of the construction of the bank, which opened in 1915.

The PHS will be accepting pre-orders of the book soon.

Two photos from the book are at the right: Pinole City Hall, ca. 1980, and Pinole City Hall, ca. 2015.

PHS SEEKING FAMILY FILMS FOR HISTORICAL ARCHIVE

Got film?
The Pinole Historical Society is embarking on a major project to archive the city's history.

We want to establish a permanent, digitized collection of Pinole's history.

Do you have film of past Holy Ghost parades, Pinole Valley High School Homecoming parades, Memorial Day or July 4 parades?

How about important athletic events, such as a high-school football, basketball, baseball, softball, or volleyball games?

Perhaps you have film of an important event that took place in Fernandez Park, or a ribbon cutting or an event that has a place in Pinole's history — such as the 1958 flood?

We're looking for any video or film you have — VHS, Beta, camcorder, DV tape, 8mm, Super 8mm, 16mm, 35mm, motion picture.

Nearly everyone has taken home movies. That makes everyone who has taken film a historian.

We want to collect, digitize, catalog, and preserve old movies on DVD (and whatever formats are to come) to exhibit, educate, and entertain.

The PHS will share these videos on a film archive that we will establish, similar to the The Pioneers Film Archive on YouTube created by the California Pioneers of Santa Clara (www.youtube.com/scppioneers).

Film connects with the past in a unique way. It's immersive, educational, and entertaining. It's a way to get young people interested in history.

Got film? Please contact us at info@pinolehistoricalsociety.org. We'll return your film; we just want to borrow and digitize it.

The Pinole Historical Society promotes awareness and appreciation of history through preservation and education, and chronicles the city's heritage for current and future generations.

May 8: PINOLE HISTORICAL SOCIETY ANNUAL MEETING AND PROGRAM

6:30 to 8 p.m.,
Conference rooms
2A and 2B, Kaiser

Permanente Medical Office Building, 1301 Pinole Valley Road. Program: "KABOOM: Secret Stories of the Hercules Powder Works, the World's Largest Explosives Factory."

Author and Hercules Historical Society historian Stephen Lawton will provide a glimpse into the interesting history and stories of this nearly 100-year-old explosives factory that gave the city its name.

Though the powder works sometimes went boom in the night (and day), the facility played a significant and decisive role in the U.S. Army's containment of fires started by the 1906 San Francisco earthquake and produced much of the explosives used by Allied forces in World War I and World War II.

The public is invited to this FREE event. Refreshments will be served.

Also, directors of the society will be elected at this meeting, our annual meeting.

TWO FILMS REMAIN IN WWII SERIES ABOUT WOMEN ON THE HOME FRONT AND BEYOND

Two movies remain in the Tuesday “Women on the Home Front and Beyond” film series aboard the SS Red Oak Victory, a beautifully restored cargo ship built in Richmond during World War II. The ship is owned and operated by the Richmond Museum Association and is also part of Rosie the Riveter/ WWII Home Front National Historical Park.

Admission to the films is free, but there is a suggested donation of $10 to help preserve and maintain the ship.

Boarding begins at 6:30 p.m. and the films begin at 7 p.m..

Tuesday, April 14: Force of Arms (1951). William Holden, a soldier, and Nancy Olson, a nurse, find love during war.

Tuesday, May 12: The Josephine Baker Story (1991). Ingénue and ex-pat Josephine Baker stays in France during WWII and helps Jews escape the Nazis. This film is rated R; no one under 17 will be admitted without a parent.

The SS Red Oak Victory is located in historic Shipyard #3 at 1337 Canal Blvd., Berth 6A, in Richmond. For directions to the shipyard, visit the Red Oak Victory at www.ssredoakvictory.com/contact.htm.

Please note: The ship is not ADA accessible. Visitors must be able to climb the gangplank (40 feet of stairs with railings) and step steps once aboard.

Remember to wear warm clothing, as it can be chilly aboard the ship!

Inclement weather may force the ship staff to cancel this program for safety reasons. If it rains, please call the ship at 510-237-2933 by 5:30 p.m. on the day of the screening to find out if the show will go on.

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE HOSTS

“WAGGING TAILS AND WAR TALES”

Bring your canine friend for a guided walk along Richmond’s Bay Trail

Join park rangers from Rosie the Riveter/WWII Home Front National Historical Park for a dog-friendly walk-and-talk along Richmond’s Bay Trail on April 4, 2015, at 10 a.m. Bring your furry friend on leash, and learn about the vital role that 10,000 American family dogs served in the American WWII defense effort.

The two-mile walk will last approximately two hours. Meet rangers at the Point Isabel Regional Shoreline near the Sit and Stay Café (rangers will be holding a “Healthy Parks, Healthy People” sign.) Rangers will lead some light stretching before embarking towards the Rosie the Riveter Memorial. Since the walk is not a loop, all participants will be responsible for finding their own way back to their car. There are parking lots at Point Isabel and also at Marina Bay Park.

Space is limited to 30 people. Please sign up by e-mailing lucien\_sonder@nps.gov. Please include your phone number in your email message. For directions to Point Isabel, please visit www.ebparks.org/parks/pt\_isabel#reach.

The fine print: Rain will cancel this event. Dogs are invited to join in the fun, but it is not mandatory to bring a furry friend to attend this program. Your dog must be on a leash and must be able to get along with other dogs in a “pack” atmosphere. Aggressive dogs will be asked to leave the event.

All children must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. All visitors are advised to wear sunscreen, comfortable clothing and closed toed shoes. We also suggest you bring water and snacks for yourself and for your dog.

Rosie the Riveter/World War II Home Front National Historical Park is hosting this program in collaboration with the “Healthy Parks Healthy People Bay Area” initiative to encourage park visitors to make healthy lifestyle choices while spending more time outdoors.

Participants are encouraged to visit the Rosie the Riveter Visitor Education Center after the event or on another day; however, please note: dogs are not

JAPANESE TRADITIONAL PERFORMING ARTS CELEBRATED IN NEW FILM

“Hidden Legacy” traces how incarcerated Japanese Americans maintained artistic expression during WWII

On April 10 and 11, the National Park Service will host a screening of a new documentary film called “Hidden Legacy: Japanese Traditional Performing Arts in the World War II Internment Camps.”

The film will be screened at 2 p.m. on both dates at the Visitor Education Center of Rosie the Riveter/WWII Home Front National Historical Park in Richmond.

On Saturday, March 11, the film will be preceded by a short koto performance and introduction by the director, with a Q&A to follow. Seating is limited at both screenings and reservations are required. Please call (510) 232-5050 x0 and leave your name and phone number, and please specify which date and time you wish to attend.

The film, directed by Shirley Kazuyo Muramoto-Wong, uses historical footage and interviews from artists who were incarcerated to tell the story of how traditional Japanese cultural arts were maintained at a time when the War Relocation Authority (WRA) emphasized the importance of assimilation and Americanization. This film will be the first major presentation of the existence of traditional music, dance, and drama in the camps. The director’s own family’s history related to the camps led her to become a kotoist and teacher of the Japanese koto (13-stringed zither).

Thirty artists of traditional Japanese music (koto, nagauta shamisen, shakuhachi, shigin, biwa), dance (buyo, obon) and drama (kabuki) were interviewed for the film. All artists interviewed for the film are native born Americans who practiced Japanese arts before WWII, as well as during and after the war.

This made them “social activists,” helping others to learn and enjoy these arts, and to help draw their attention away from their surroundings, giving them pride and self-esteem.

Their efforts kept Japanese cultural arts alive in our communities today.

Also featured in the film is Professor Minako Waseda of Geijutsu Daigaku University of Music and Arts, and Kunitachi College of Music, in Tokyo, whose research thesis, “Extraordinary Circumstances, Exceptional Practices: Music in Japanese American Concentration Camps,” is the only scholarly work that has been published on this subject.

Film locations include camps at Manzanar, Tule Lake, Heart Mountain; locations in Japan, such as Osaka, Kyoto, three Tokyo music universities; Cherry Blossom Festivals in the Bay Area; Japanese American Museum of San Jose; koto studio of Shirley Kazuyo Muramoto-Wong, and many more.

The Rosie the Riveter Visitor Education Center is open seven days a week from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and is located at 1414 Harbour Way South, suite 3000, Richmond. For more information and directions to the Visitor Education Center, please call (510) 232-5050 x0 or visit www.nps.gov/rori/planyourvisit/directions.htm. Admission to the Visitor Center and all park sites and programs is free.

If you would like to receive information about upcoming park events, visit www.rosietheriveter.org and sign up for the e-mail newsletter. The Rosie the Riveter Trust is the non-profit association building a community of support for this national park.

The poster features a central image of a woman in a traditional Japanese kimono and headpiece, identified as Buyo dancer Yukino Okubo Harada. The background is a light blue with a pattern of barbed wire. Text on the poster includes the title 'HIDDEN LEGACY: Japanese Traditional Performing Arts in the WWII Internment Camps', the director's name 'Shirley Kazuyo Muramoto-Wong', and screening dates: 'Friday, April 10th at 2 PM' and 'Saturday, April 11th at 2 PM'. It also provides contact information for the Visitor Education Center in Richmond, CA.

The Cat

Who Chose To Dream

Author Presentation by:

Dr. Loriene Honda

Saturday, 4/18, 12 PM

Dr. Loriene Honda is a psychologist from Davis, CA, and author of the children's book, The Cat Who Chose to Dream, a story of a cat's choice to be incarcerated at a World War II prison camp as a gesture of loving support to the Japanese American family to whom he belongs.

Dr. Honda will share background information related to the WWII prison camps, focusing in part on the long-term physical and inter-generational socio-emotional effects of the camp experience on Japanese Americans. She will also review her personal and family history related to the camp experience and how it led to her writing this book. Samples of the artwork from the book, done by artist Jimmy Mirikitani, will also be shown.

Both school-aged children and adults are encouraged to attend this program. RESERVATIONS REQUIRED Seating is limited. Please call 610-232-5050 x0 and leave your name and phone number, and specify the event date and time.
