Genealogy program May 11 at Pinole Senior Center

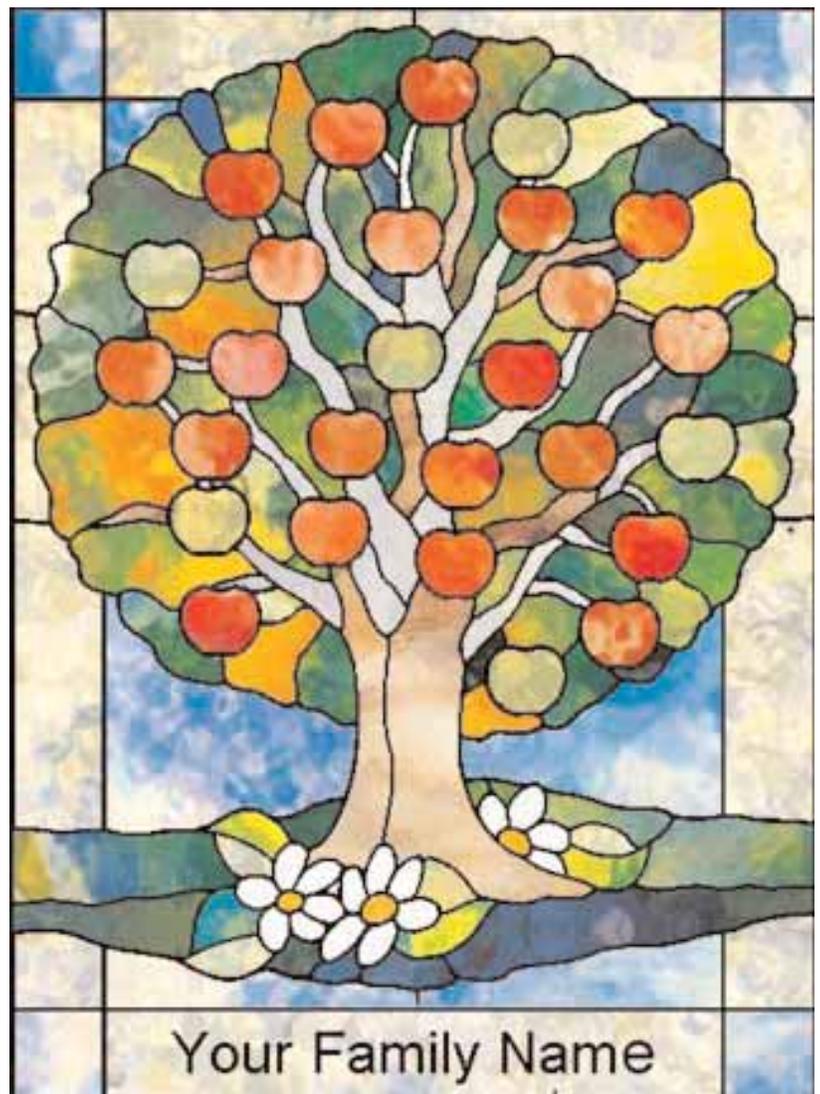

Popular presentation
given for second time

The Pinole Historical Society's well-received genealogy program—Create Your Family Tree—will be offered to the public Wednesday, May 11, at 2 p.m., at the Pinole Senior Center.

It was previously presented at the society's February membership meeting.

PHS President Marcia Kalapus and board member Shirley Ramos will repeat the program they did in February. They will be joined by either Ian Richards or Tim Madigan, Pinole librarians, who will speak about genealogy research resources available at the library.

This event is free to the public. Membership in the senior center is not required to attend this program.

Hercules book launch will include program at May 19 PHS membership meeting

The book Images of America: Hercules, part of Arcadia Publishing's series on city histories will be released May 2.

The result of the tremendous efforts by authors Jennifer Posedel and Stephen Lawton with the Hercules Historical Society (HHS), the book promises to provide comprehensive information about this former company town and its inhabitants.

At the May 19 Pinole Historical Society annual meeting at 6:30 p.m. in the Alex Clark Room of the Pinole Public Safety Building, 880 Tennent Avenue, author Jennifer Posedel will share stories from Hercules's past and photos from long ago—many not previously seen by the public—in a PowerPoint presentation.

The PHS will also host a book signing for the Hercules book that night.

The book's primary launching event will be Saturday, May 7, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Hercules Public Library, 109 Civic Drive, Hercules. The public is invited to attend this free event.

Jennifer and Stephen, plus many of the Hercules Historical Society members, will be present. Copies of the book will be available for sale and can be signed by the authors.

You can order the book via the HHS web site at www.herculeshistory.org. For information about the book, click on the Book Information tab at the top of the home page.

On May 14 and 15, in conjunction with the used book sale conducted by the Friends of the Hercules Library, the book will be sold inside the library from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. (Saturday), and noon to 4 p.m. (Sunday).

Spring issue of Newsbriefs at locations throughout area

The spring issue of PHS Newsbriefs is available for pickup at more than 50 locations in the area.

This issue features the first of a two-part series on the Tennents, one of the founding families of Pinole, written by PHS historian and director emeritus George Vincent.

Pinole librarian Ian Richards contributed an article about the many advantages of holding a Contra Costa County Library card, not the least of which is utilizing the array of research services available in Pinole and throughout the county system.

And, there's an article about a recent bequest to the society by Ken Swenson, grandson of a prominent Pinole businessman 100 years ago, and a descendant of General Mariano Vallejo, Mexico's Comandante in Northern California in the 1830s.

PHS Newsbriefs is also available on-line at www.pinolehistoricalsociety.org/newsletter.htm

PHS, PINOLE LIBRARY PRESERVE CITY'S HISTORY

The Pinole Historical Society and the Pinole Library are united in their efforts to preserve the city's history—and present it to the public.

For the last year and a half, the library has offered the PHS the use of two large display cases, in which the society rotates historical exhibits.

The current exhibits celebrate National Preservation Month (May) and Pinole winners of National Women's History Month (March) awards.

The next exhibit, in June, will feature winners of our annual essay contest in Pinole schools.

For a historical society without a museum, the library's generosity gives us an opportunity to present the city's history to the public.

Recently, librarians Ian Richards and Tim

Madigan asked the PHS to provide photos for the library's previously bare brick walls. We were happy to oblige; now, 23 photos of Pinole's past are hanging on the library's walls.

Included among these are several school class photos between 1889 and the 1930s, which may be found in the children's section.

Tim and Ian have worked with the PHS to provide more on-line resources for our popular genealogy program—How to Create a Family Tree.

The library is a great place for people to do research on family histories (see page 14). And, there's no fee to use the library's computers.

The genealogy program, featuring PHS experts Marcia Kalapus and Shirley Ramos, will be offered Wednesday, May 11, at 2 p.m. at the Pinole Senior Center. The program is free, and no reservations are necessary. Either Ian or Tim will join us to review the library's resources.

We're also working with the library to present a history program for children this summer. We'll announce the details soon.

Police on the lookout for old patches

Pinole Police Detective Sergeant Matt Messier, a history enthusiast who has taken on the task of preserving and displaying the police department's history, is seeking information about what year the department changed its patches and uniforms from tan to blue.

The original patch was a motorcycle-type patch. The department does not have any of these patches, and says Detective Sergeant Messier, "We are desperately looking for one for our display."

Detective Sergeant Messier has put together an impressive display of police photos and artifacts in the Pinole Public Safety Facility.

If anyone reading this newsletter can help Detective Sergeant Messier, please contact him at (510) 741-2077.

In case you missed one of our TV interviews . . .

All of our interviews with notable Pinole residents that appeared on Pinole Community TV may be found on the city's website—

Scroll down to PINOLE HISTORY. You'll find our interviews, Veterans' Day programs, George Vincent's Walking Tour of Historic Downtown Pinole, and the very fine PCTV-produced, 12-part series based on the Historic Walking Tour brochure. It's great TV!

PHS will participate in Community Service Day

Several Pinole Historical Society members will be volunteering their time at the city's first Pinole Community Service Day on Saturday, June 4.

Volunteers will spend three hours on community projects—from painting and landscaping at the Pinole Senior Center to providing companionship for residents of senior care facilities, from removing tires from San Pablo Bay to painting the Pinole Youth Center, from helping to beautify the southwest corner of Tennent and San Pablo avenues, to helping Pinole Middle School teachers pack in preparation for their move into the new school.

Volunteers will meet at Fernandez Park for a FREE breakfast and a FREE T-shirt from 8-9 a.m., work at a project site from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and return to the park for a FREE barbecue lunch and to visit booths of local service organizations. The Pinole Historical Society will have a booth.

Volunteers may sign up for a project by filling out and mailing the volunteer application on the next page of this e-zine.

For more information about Pinole Community Service Day, contact Pinole Community Services Commissioner Julie Oshiro at (510) 541-8036 or PinoleCSD@gmail.com.
